- Each hour of service that is documented on church letterhead and signed by the pastor or church official counts as a $35.70 credit that you can use to offset up to 75% of the cost of counseling.
- All services must be in addition to what you usually do. For example if you are already volunteering at a soup kitchen only the time spent volunteering in a different programs (for example the Battered Women’s Shelter) would count. The reason we do this is because the point of the program is to encourage you to do more to help others. If we are giving our gifts to you we want you to give yours to others to create a positive ripple effect.
- Regular church duties (teaching Sunday school, being a deacon or trustee) do not count.
- The time sheet needs to be on church letterhead and signed by the pastor or church official.
- BT credits can only be used to offset the cost of regularly scheduled sessions on Mondays (we devote the first day of the week to this program) and that all hours must be earned and documented before being used for a scheduled session.
- If you earn more hours than you use you can keep the credits for future use. Or if you do not want to use them yourself you can donate them to anyone of your choosing or to the next client that comes into our practice that is in need.

Sincerely,
David Russell, Ph.D.
